The showground at Hickstead is one of the UK's premier sporting venues, and is in the heart of Sussex, between Gatwick Airport and Brighton.

In 2026, the Aster Events team developed Hickstead Dressage's global reputation to the next-level.

In 2027 there will be top class competition over 7 days, and the opportunity for enhanced trade stand displays and hospitality.

With few international dressage competitions available to riders in the UK we envisage the location, timing and quality of the competition to be incredibly popular. The perfect opportunity to meet a targeted audience & launch new products.

EXHIBITOR INFORMATION

Our recent press release has caused huge excitement to the dressage community with our social media and press releases continue to build excitement and anticipation ahead of the return of dressage at Hickstead.

Site Information

- Retail sites are predominantly positioned on the perimeter road with a clear view of the main arenas. Exhibitors will benefit from a high volume of footfall and roadside access.
- Price includes marquee with wooden floor. For an additional cost, exhibitors can also add carpet and linings.

Allocation of Sites

Allocation is at the discretion of Aster Events. However, where possible we will endeavour to meet any exhibitor requests. To secure a site reservation, completed online applications with a total cost of the space are required.

Without a completed online application and full payment sites will NOT be reserved.

Electricity

Each electrical power supply of 500w is distributed to your stand via a 3-pin industrial line.

A socket adaptor is required to plug into, please bring one with you.

The supply is live from the day prior to the show opening until the completion of the final day. Exhibitors are asked to carefully consider their electricity requirement and order the appropriate supply in advance of the event.

Prior to connection, the onsite electrician will inspect your appliance. During the inspection any exhibitor found to be drawing an excessive supply will be charged accordingly for additional draw over 500w, at a price deemed appropriate by the showground electrician.

Those providing electrical equipment for their own use should, (prior to arrival), arrange for it to be inspected and PAT tested by a registered electrician, a label to be affixed to it, and a certificate to be issued, clearly stating the date of the test and the name of the electrician who performed it. ## Risk Assessment

For health and safety reasons, all exhibitors are required to carry out a risk assessment for their stand, a copy of which MUST be completed and returned via email to info@asterevents.co.uk before the (1st May 2026). A sample risk assessment form is provided.

This must include the build-up and break-down periods, and must fully assess any risks to exhibitors, contractors, organisers, or staff working or visiting the showground during this period. It must also include any risks to the public during the open period.

Undertaking your risk assessments: It is a legal requirement that each exhibitor undertakes their own risk assessment prior to the event, listing the tasks and identifying the hazards present on site, then devising ways to minimise and control those hazards. Exhibitors may otherwise be liable to heavy fines and prosecutions. Please consider work practices and exhibits.

How do I go about undertaking a risk assessment? By law it must be suitable and sufficient – but it must also be simple to both understand and implement.

Look for the task/hazard: What equipment, materials and chemicals will be used? How much noise and dust will there be? What are the ground conditions? What vehicle movements and lifting operations have to be considered? Schedule a 'late working rota' to avoid tiredness and mistakes.

Any electrical installations? What hazardous exhibits do you have? How are you disposing of packaging and waste?

Decide who could be harmed and how: Who will be affected by your work and who is most at risk? Think of employees, contractors, or exhibitors on or near your stand, as well as visitors and passers-by.

Safe working depends on co-operation between all the firms on site. Take this into account and consider necessary precautions on every aspect of the work being carried out, which includes training and the provision of information to all the different parties who are at risk.

Evaluate the risks: Once you have done this adequately, you can then decide on the appropriate action. Ask yourself:

- a) Can the hazard or risk be removed completely or done in a different way?
- b) If the risk cannot be eliminated, can it be isolated, controlled or reduced?
- c) Can protective measures be taken that will protect the entire workforce on site? Protective clothing should only be the last step to take and is often not the only solution.

Record the findings: Write down the findings of your risk assessment. Pass on information about significant risks to those people identified in step two, and record what measures you have taken to control those risks for future reference.

Review your findings: This allows you to learn by experience and take account of any unusual conditions or change that occurred on site. In all stand building cases (especially steelwork erection and lifting), the foreman and/or principal contractor should draw up a specific method statement and go through it with your contractors in advance of the show.

Please note that this information is only intended as guidance.

Further advice may be obtained from the Health and Safety Executive at www.hse.gov.uk
